Humanity, technology and the evolution of healthcare

Thursday 2 August | 8.30am – 10.00am | Russell Strong Auditorium

Technology and healthcare—what will the next ten years hold?

The technology driven disruption of healthcare has been mooted for many years now, but with health data growing at an exponential rate are we nearly at the tipping point? What will the next 10 years hold, and how will clinicians merge technology and their humanity to good effect.
