Ageing at the extremes

WEDNESDAY 25 AUGUST | 8.30AM–10AM | VIA ZOOM VIDEO WEBINAR

The ageing population is diverse; there is great variability in longevity, health status and care needs. Increasingly, excellent healthcare for older adults requires skilled management of 'ageing extremes'. In this session, we will explore different ends of the spectrum for three age-related issues: chronological age, blood pressure and weight. Our multidisciplinary panel will outline the burden of these extremes before sharing evidence-based, practical management tips that can be incorporated into clinical practice.
